

SERVICES

High Conflict Custody

When confronted with high conflict custody matters involving allegations of mental, physical, or emotional abuse, it is essential that you have an attorney experienced with these issues. The family law attorneys at Sandberg Phoenix have years of experience working with individuals to guide them through custody matter involving abuse, neglect, substance abuse, mental health issues, and other high conflict matter.