

Nathan Levy

ATTORNEY IN ST. LOUIS, MO

Nathan joined Sandberg Phoenix in 2023 and is a member of the Business practice group. Prior to joining the firm, Nathan worked at a firm in O'Fallon, Illinois focusing on asbestos litigation. He has also worked as a law clerk for two different firms in the St. Louis, Missouri, area, assisting with matters ranging from estate planning to personal injury and property disputes.

Nathan received his undergraduate degree in audio engineering from Webster University in St. Louis, Missouri, and a business minor while attending Webster University campuses in the Netherlands and Thailand. In addition, Nathan received his law degree from Southern Illinois University School of Law, graduating summa cum laude.

While in law school, Nathan was a member of the SIU Law Journal where he served as a note editor, received the best note award during his second year, received the best note editor award during his third, and where his note was chosen for publication. During his time at SIU, he was also a member of the academic honors program, recipient of five CALI Excellence for the Future Awards, recipient of five dean's scholarships, recipient of the Charles Dean Scholarship, and winner of the Beth & Darin Boggs Ping-Pong Scholarship, his most beloved achievement.

In his free time, Nathan enjoys kayaking, traveling, St. Louis Blues hockey and, of course, ping-pong.
