Sandberg Phoenix & von Gontard P.C., a full-service law firm headquartered in St. Louis, Missouri, announced that it has opened its fourth office in O'Fallon, Illinois. The full-service firm already has a strong Southern Illinois presence with two fully-staffed offices located in Edwardsville and Carbondale, Illinois. "The firm is excited about expanding our footprint in Southern Illinois by adding our fourth office in O'Fallon, Illinois. We believe, as we have for the last 31 years, that client service is our number one priority, and we will continue to grow to meet the needs of our clients," said the firm's Managing Partner, John Sandberg.

With the expansion, firm attorneys will practice in the O'Fallon office which will be managed by Lorraine Cavataio, a Shareholder with Sandberg Phoenix, who practices in the firm's Business Group. The O'Fallon office will provide the full range of services that Sandberg Phoenix offers. "This expansion was a big step for the future of our firm. We now have the resources and man-power to provide timely and quality legal services to our Southern Illinois community," said Shareholder Bhavik Patel.

Sandberg Phoenix has added 15 attorneys in the past two years, which includes the new O'Fallon office.
