Real Estate Professionals

The practice of defending real estate professionals is diverse and presents unique challenges. Our attorneys are equipped with the knowledge to understand our clients' business needs and get the results they desire.

Our team has worked with title agents, real estate agents/brokers, and home inspectors. The team at Sandberg Phoenix understand the complexities of the real estate industry. With former licensed real estate agents now practicing as attorneys on our team, we are mindful of the importance of reputation and the stress caused when a professional is sued. We work diligently with our clients to resolve matters as quickly as possible.
