Mechanics Liens

Our construction company or supplier clients can rely on us when they have performed their work and have not gotten paid.

You can count on our firm to react quickly to preserve the company's right to claim and enforce a mechanic's lien on the property that has received the benefit of the work and materials provided.

Changes in the Missouri Mechanic's Lien Act make the process of preserving your right to lien more complicated than ever. Our practitioners have extensive experience in advising clients in all aspects of the lien process, including creating, preserving and enforcing the lien in court.
