Orders of Protection

Orders of Protection (sometimes referred to as “restraining orders”) are a request by one individual to have another stay away from them and avoid contact with them as a result of harassing, intimidating, stalking, or other unwanted contact or behavior. An Order of Protection can be requested for an individual, or for their child, depending on the circumstances. The attorneys at Sandberg Phoenix assist individuals both in requesting Orders of Protection for safety, and in defending individuals who have Orders of Protection sought against them.
