

INDUSTRIES

Consumer Products

Our lawyers regularly represent designers, manufacturers and distributors of consumer products such as household appliances, lawn mowers, power tools and consumer electronic devices.

Our areas of expertise include defense of property damage, segregation, catastrophic injury and wrongful death claims. We quickly evaluate our clients' exposure and make recommendations based on a history of success in defending such claims.

We also represent wholesalers and retailers of consumer products and act as their outside general counsel on a wide range of business legal issues.