Joshua Hutkins

ATTORNEY IN ST. LOUIS, MO

Josh's passion comes from using a practical approach to guide his clients through the estate planning process and ensuring his clients are prepared and have the knowledge to put their plan into action.

Joshua Hutkins is a member of the Business Practice Group and is the Wealth Planning Team Leader. At Sandberg Phoenix, Josh's focus is on estate planning, wealth protection, estate and probate administration, as well as business succession planning.

Josh has considerable experience drafting a variety of trusts and estate plans for a multitude of clients. He understands the importance of properly planning for your future and how it impacts your family and loved ones. He takes this knowledge and is able to craft it for all clients, from complex estates to families who simply want to ensure their assets are protected and passed on to their future generations.

Josh has unique experience in both dental and veterinarian sciences and works closely in estate and wealth planning in these areas. His unique understanding of both industries allows him to offer highly specialized service to his clients.

In addition to estate planning, Josh has extensive experience with complex and unique estate and trust administrations, guardianships and conservatorships, as well as, prenuptial and postnuptial agreements.

Acting as a counselor for his clients, Josh speaks with them and learns about their goals, building a personal relationship while using a practical approach to their legal needs. Regardless of the situation, his objective is to constantly advocate for the interests of his clients, and Josh works hard to ensure they are well protected.

Outside of his legal practice, Josh enjoys spending time outdoors and cheering on the Cardinals and Blues. He resides in University City with his family and Golden Doodle.
